GENERAL INFORMATION

REGISTRATION

Hours: Thursday, 11:30 am-5:00 pm  Friday,  8:00 am - 5:00 pm.
Saturday,   8:00 am-5:00 pm  Sunday, 8:00 am-10:00 am.

The Registration Desk is located in the Prefunction Foyer by the Franklin Room
1. When you register, you will be given a registration badge.
2. Badges are to be worn at all sessions and are required for admission to ESS events.
3. Registered participants may request complimentary badges for their nonmember spouses.

ESS COMMONS

The ESS COMMONS is on the main level in Ballroom B. It includes:

The Book Exhibit, which is described on the back inside cover of the program.
The Message Board, where participants can leave and receive messages.

Because too few job openings were submitted prior to program publication, the Employment Center will be suspended for this year. Please do check the Employment Services section on our website (http://essnet.org) for current postings.

COPIES OF PAPERS

The ESS does not sell or distribute papers or abstracts. Please contact authors directly to obtain copies of papers or to get further information.

SESSION AND PAPER LENGTH

Sessions are scheduled with the expectation that presenters and discussants will take approximately 15 minutes to make their initial presentations. This will allow time for discussion among the panelists and for audience participation.

Presiders should end sessions promptly to enable the following sessions to start on time. If there is no Presider listed, please appoint one from the panel for time-keeping purposes.

CALL FOR PAPERS:

Storied Lives: Culture, Structure, and Narrative

2012 ANNUAL MEETING

EASTERN SOCIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Millennium Broadway Hotel
New York, NY
February 23-26, 2012

The ESS welcomes submissions addressing any and all issues of interest to sociologists, drawing on methods of every sort. In addition, the 2012 meeting will have a special focus on “Storied Lives.”

Men and women live in stories and through stories. They tell stories, individually and collectively, about themselves and others, about and on behalf of the families and communities in which they live, the organizations in which they work, the causes in which they believe. They tell stories about the routine and the extraordinary, about their highest aspirations and their deepest fears. Some of these stories are acts of liberation, calls to discover new identities and to discard old oppressions. Others are themselves acts of oppression, stories that inscribe and justify existing inequalities of wealth, honor and power. Men and women tell stories, as do groups, organizations, and movements, but not under conditions of their own choosing. Rather, they tell stories within the limits of culture and in response to the demands of structure. They tell stories with the resources, material and symbolic, at hand. But these resources are distributed unequally with the result that some stories are heard, some demand to be heard, and others are ignored altogether. The 2012 meeting of the ESS will consider stories across a range of settings—at the workplace and in families, in communities and in religion, about immigration and about race, in the nation and across borders, about crime and about the law, and, not least, in the construction of both personal and collective identities. The meetings will examine the conditions under which men and women tell stories but also the conditions those stories help create.

Although the ESS particularly encourages submissions related to this year’s theme, we welcome submissions on all sociological topics, drawing on all methods and a variety of forms. We particularly welcome proposals for innovative forms we have not had the wit to think of in addition to:

- Individual papers (please include abstracts of 250 words or less; longer drafts are also welcome via email to the program committee)
- Wholly constituted sessions (with names and affiliations of all presenters)
- Thematic Conversations (panels of two or more scholars engaged in debate or exchange)
- Workshops on specific topics and techniques
- Special sessions organized around prominent scholars and their work
- Roundtable and poster session presentations
- Mini-conferences
- Details about electronic submission will be posted in the next ESS newsletter, announced electronically on the ESS Announce List, and available at the ESS website: http://www.essnet.org. Paper submissions and session proposals are due by October 15, 2011. Proposals for mini-conferences are encouraged by June, 2011.
- Questions should be sent to: easterns2012@gmail.com

Program Committee: Dan Clawson (Co-Chair), Mary Ann Clawson (Co-Chair), Robert Zussman (President), Anne R. Roschelle (Vice President), Enobong Branch, Naomi Gerstel, James Jasper, Jennifer Lundquist, Millicent Thayer

Details about electronic submission will be posted in the next ESS newsletter, announced electronically on the ESS Announce List, and available at the ESS website: http://www.essnet.org.
Sociological Forum is peer reviewed and committed to publishing high quality, cutting edge research on substantive issues of fundamental importance to the study of society. The journal’s mission is broad in scope, encompassing empirical works (both quantitative and qualitative in nature), as well as works that develop theories, concepts, and methodological strategies.
